“My position as a Student Programming and Leadership Coordinator was a unique experience that provided me with far more skills for the professional world than were stated on the job description. Undertaking responsibilities beyond my core office duties allowed me to learn various ways to multi-task and complete projects efficiently, while also thinking in new ways. Executing events and projects was an ever-changing and evolving process providing me with hands-on learning experience with students and co-workers. The position gave me insight on how to utilize my available resources, negotiate with vendors, artists, and establishments, as well as how to handle an incredibly busy schedule. Time management, event marketing, facilitation of event schedules, and being creative in the execution of events were the major skills I acquired through this position, and can be applied to any future position. Justly, I am grateful to have been provided with this learning opportunity because it has made me a more well-rounded employee overall.”
