At Regis College, we define "partnership" by the needs of our partners

For staff development: discounted tuition, customized program delivery for groups and virtual admission events.

For recruitment: a talent pool of exceptionally prepared and dedicated students and alumni in healthcare, human services and other fields.

For meetings and other engagements: access to a campus complete with academic library, a fine arts center with theater, auditorium and gallery, athletic facilities and ample parking set on over 100 acres in Weston, MA.

For product development: an infrastructure for joint research drawing on faculty renowned in healthcare and allied professions and opportunities for incubator space and simulation labs.

For institutional image/promotion: an opportunity for co-branding with a mission-driven non-profit university with a strong human services focus. A partner for your executives to serve as a speaker, student mentor or advisory board member.

Whatever the goals of your organization, the Office of Strategic Partnerships at Regis College is here to help you achieve them.
