Founders' Day: Thursday, September 24

This Founders' Day is going to be different from years' past. Rather than reaching out to community agencies and non-profits to help serve their needs, we will be reaching in...reaching into our hearts and minds over the most important issue of our time, racism. We know racism exists in every corner of this world, including on our own campuses. President Hays, in her recent statement, A Commitment to do Better, prioritized the importance of a daylong community dialogue on racism, equity, and social justice.

Although a day off from classes, Founders' Day is still a day on. All community members will go on a journey throughout the day, listening, participating, learning, growing, and ultimately being inspired to commit to our own "good trouble." Each group will be led by a team of two facilitators - a student and a staff or faculty member.

Founders' Day programming will take place Thursday, September 24 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.
